Rig stuff for the deep well to be drilled on the German Hill road, near the watering trough, was hauled through town yesterday. It is expected to be drilled within the next ten days, or as soon as the rig can be completed.

E. E. Norton, of Norton & Miles, is still hustling getting in plating on his Buffalo contract. Every available team is working, although the rains and freezes have rendered the hauling hard on account of bad roads.—Titusville News.

Charles Cox, who resides on the Hopkins farm, near the County Home, reports the killing of a snake near there last Saturday. This is different from a year ago about this time, when the mercury was toying around about 25 to 30 degrees below the zero.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max B. Sully, 420 South street, Warren, Ohio, died Saturday evening, Jan. 11, at 10:30 o'clock. The funeral was held on Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. J. C. Smith, internment at Oakwood. The parents were former residents of West Hickory.

E. E. Douty, who has the contract of stocking the Coleman, Watson & Co. mill, lost one of the fine grey team horses last week, the animal having sickened and died on Wednesday. The other horse was also sick but has recovered. Mr. Douty had just recently purchased the team from the lumber firm, paying $800 for the pair.

The continuous rains and mild weather have rendered the country roads well nigh impassable. J. G. Jamieson has close to a million feet of lumber cut to order at his mills out in the township, but cannot move a foot of it. Other lumbermen and woodsmen are obliged to shut down operations on account of the marshy condition of the ground everywhere, and heavy hauling of all kinds is at a standstill.

Acknowledgment of subscription renewals is made as follows, with thanks: Fred Squire, Barryville, N. Y.; Jonathan Albaugh, J. H. Albaugh, East Hickory, Pa.; C. G. Hays, Corry, Pa.; A. P. Anderson, J. E. Larson, Brookston, Pa.; E. B. Sully, Erie, Pa. (new); W. S. Clark, Pineville, Pa.; Hon. J. C. Sibley, Franklin, Pa.; T. L. Riddle, Marietta, Ohio; Jay Catlin, Kellettville, Pa. (new); Geo. F. Whitner, Esq., Clarion, Pa.; H. J. Wertz, R. M. Herman, Charles Cox, Tionesta.

Metaphorically, these days of rain, Titusville is disconsolately displaying wet feet, claimed to have been received by falling into the river, and tearfully asks the people of the upper Allegheny to give up their homes and property to the building of a lot of dams. In other words, the little floods of the past week or two are being exploited to the limit as a means to rob this section for Pittsburgh's benefit. And the flood commission are out to win if persistence can make it.—Titusville News.

At a business meeting held Tuesday last week of the board of directors of Pennsylvania Memorial Home, at Brookville, an institution that is held in high esteem by many people in this section, the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Maria L. Mumford was filled by the election of Susie F. Loomis, of Scranton, Pa. The directors then elected Alfaretta M. Devine, of Rofe, Pa., as president of the board, and the president appointed Susie F. Loomis as financial secretary.

Yesterday teams owned by Rev. J. M. Critchlow were delivering wheat to the Kerr Hill Mill company, great wagonloads of the grain being brought from Mr. Critchlow's farm south of town. It was stated yesterday that the Mill company had purchased 1,200 bushels of wheat from Mr. Critchlow. At about a dollar a bushel, it will be realized that the purchase means a pretty penny for all concerned, and that farming on scientific plans pays.—Titusville Herald.

Just for contrast, a reputable citizen of Knox township dropped into the Republican office on Monday morning Jan. 13th, to inform us that a robin was sitting on a limb of a tree at Kline mill as he came into town, blithely singing a stirring spring song, while his diary (the Knox township citizen's diary, not the robin's) shows that a year ago that day was the coldest day of the coldest month of the coldest year this section experienced since Noah landed on Ararat.—Brookville Republic.

A wireless station at the New Thompson, in Kane, has been licensed and it is expected that an inspector will shortly look the outfit over and examine those in charge. A new receiving outfit has been installed and soon a sending attachment will be added. Cape Cod station, which is about 1,600 miles from Kane, can be heard sending messages nightly and on one occasion Operator Edwards heard the station at Guantanamo, Cuba, calling the Argentine government. The former station is fully 2,700 miles from Kane.

The well on the Wheeler lands, near the State bridge in Green township, reached a depth of 1526 feet last week, when the contractors, Messrs. Lowe & Welch, were ordered to shut down by the operators, who are Jamestown, N. Y., parties. It was the original intention, we understand, to drill to the Balltown sand, and whether the drilling is to be resumed is not known at present. A sand was found when the hole was between 1400 and 1500 feet deep, but that is thought to have been the Queen sand.

The Ladies' World for February can best be described as a very "live" number, for it contains many contributions that not only entertain, but which make you sit up and think. In the Household Department there is a valuable article on "The Evils of Installation Buying, and Menus and Dishes suited to the season; the fashions show not only styles for ladies and young people, but a most attractive layette for a baby, and the beauty and other columns are filled with excellent advice.—[New York] 50 cents a year.

At the last meeting of General Joseph Warren Chapter, D. A. R., at Warren, Miss Mary O. King read a paper on "Dolly Madison," written by Mrs. Susie H. May Sharpe, of Tionesta. Mrs. Sharpe prepared the paper and read it before the Titusville Chapter several years ago; it is so admirably written, so charming in every way that the Gen. Joseph Warren Chapter were more than delighted to hear it and expressed their appreciation by a rising vote of thanks to Mrs. Sharpe for her kindness in permitting its use.

Titusville Chapter, D. A. R., met Tuesday with Mrs. F. A. Shaw, at Tidouite, West Hickory, being the hostesses. A review of this Chapter's record since it was organized in 1900 shows a membership of 155. Of this number ten have died, five dropped from the rolls, and fifty-five transferred, forty-two of which transferred to organize General Joseph Warren Chapter at Warren. Its present membership is eighty-five. It is doubtful if any Chapter in the state has a better efficiency record.

By the introduction of the slim dances into decent society, dancing as an amusement and recreation receives a severe blow, and if a determined stand is not taken against it, public opinion will put the ban on dancing altogether. For the establishment of boards of censors for the dancing picture shows, that sort of amusement would now be in disgrace, as there was a strong tendency toward the sensational and obscene, which would soon have resulted in the condemnation of the nickel theatre as vicious and immoral in its influences. A national board of censorship appears also to be needed for the dance.

During the high water last week at Eagle Rock, the Bessemer pipeline crossing the Allegheny was broken. Three men employed as pipelayers went out Wednesday night to make repairs, using a boat for a purpose. The river was very high and the thick fog arose. In this the men lost their way and the boat went down stream. It struck against drift wood and was capsized, throwing the occupants into the chilly water. Fortunately they were near land and were able to make their way in safety to the shore, though chilled to the bone by the icy temperature of the stream. They did not try again at night, but finished up in daylight with a loss of about 200 barrels of oil. Wm. Donovan, the gauger, of Stewart Run, was one of the three men who took this icy bath.

Mrs. Olivia S. Goal, wife of A. D. Goal, died Friday night, Jan. 17, 1913, at her home in Warren, Pa., at the age of 58 years after an illness of nearly a year. She is survived by her husband, three sons, C. W., J. A. and J. S. Goal, and five daughters, Mrs. M. C. Mahaffy, of Warren, Mrs. E. A. Yetter, of Kane, Ellenora, Ethel and Frances Olive, at home. Her aged father, two brothers, two sisters, and eight grandchildren also survive. The family lived for a number of years at Lynch, this county. Mrs. Goal was a woman of quiet, lovable disposition, who had a host of friends wherever she was known, and these will be pained to learn of her death. The funeral was held Monday afternoon from her late home with interment in Oakland cemetery, Warren. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends to pay their last tribute of love and respect to the memory of a good woman gone from their midst.

Cyrus Williams, a well known farmer of Greenwood township, Crawford county, died late Friday night of black diphtheria, making five deaths out of a family of ten within the past seven days. The first death occurred Friday a week ago when Reed Williams, aged 15, passed away. Wednesday Charles, aged 5, died, and on Thursday one of the others, a daughter aged 8 months. The fourth death occurred Friday and the fifth, that of Mr. Williams, Friday night, and from reports the mother and three of the remaining children are all in a critical condition. One of the children, Arvella, is still unaffected.

Wm. E. Neice and F. K. Squires of Grove City are here this week making arrangements to drill on the Means and Dempsey warrant. Mr. Neice has already started a well on the Frost tract, near Byronstown, and expects to complete both wells within the next forty days. The outlook for something large in the oil or gas line is very promising, which will be a good thing for this neighborhood. The South Penn Oil Co. are drilling on the Crawford tract adjoining the Frost tract on the north. All three wells should be complete in a few weeks. Mr. Neice was formerly in business in this place and is known by almost every person in Jenks township.—Marienville Express.

Fifty Years of Blissful Married Life.

Fifty years ago last Friday, Jan. 17, 1913, occurred the marriage of Lieut. Daniel Webster Clark and Miss Belle Filanda, and on that day all but two of their children were home to help the happy "young couple" celebrate the half century event. The two missing boys were Samuel O. Clark, of Seattle, Wash., and John O. Clark, of Lewis Run, Pa., who were unable to be present. Mrs. Charles Hinckle and Miss Evelyn Clark, of Erie, Mrs. Charles P. Stahr, of Lancaster, Pa., Mrs. David Edwards and Paul Clark, of Sharon, Pa., Bruce Clark, of Yatesboro, Pa., and Miss Colyn Clark were privileged to be with their parents on the occasion, which proved a very happy reunion for all, especially so for the father and mother. January 17, 1863, Lieut. Clark came home from the army to claim his bride and a happy wedding took place in what has always been known as the Dr. Winans house still standing on the corner of Elm and Hills streets. With the exception of a few years following the close of the civil war, Tionesta has been their happy home, and it was here their nine children were reared to young men and young women.

The Clark home was prettily decorated with flowers, and the day was quietly and pleasantly spent by Mr. and Mrs. Clark in visiting with their children and receiving the friends who called to offer congratulations upon this happy occasion. Many pretty and useful presents were received, among which was a beautiful diamond ring for the bride.

Upon being asked what sort of a day it was fifty years ago, Mr. Clark replied that it was clear and cold. He was then stationed at Fredericksburg, Va. Coming home on furlough to "attend" his wedding, he was brought across the Allegheny river, running thick with slush ice, by George S. Hunter, one-time noted waterman of Tionesta, in Hunter's old, long, "dogout" canoe, the only sort of water craft at that time that could negotiate running ice.

The very youthful appearance of this bride and groom of half a century, gives their friends some confidence in Mr. Clark's assurance that he and Mrs. Clark firmly expect to celebrate their 75th anniversary. That this anniversary may be reached and celebrated is the earnest and sincere wish of their best of friends.

Allen—Bowman.

Miss Fern O. Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Bowman, and Frank P. Allen, also of this city, were quietly married yesterday at noon, at the home of the bride's parents, North Drake street, Rev. W. P. Murray, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church of this city, being the officiating clergyman. Only the near relatives were present. Included among these were Mr. and Mrs. Forest Proper of Tionesta.

Following the wedding breakfast, immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Allen left on the 1:20 train of the Pennsylvania railroad for a wedding trip after which they will be at home to their friends at 128 North Drake street.

Mrs. Allen until recently was a teacher of the local school. She is a young woman highly popular among a large circle of friends who will consider the bridegroom fortunate in having won so estimable a helpmate. Mr. Allen is the junior partner of the hardware firm of F. A. Hildeaux & Co., and select councilman from the Fourth ward. A young man of unblemished character and high standing he enjoys the respect of all knowing him. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Allen will unite in wishing the couple a happy and long life of conjugal felicity.—Titusville Herald, 19th.

Nebraska W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The Nebraska W. C. T. U. held a delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. Phoebe Hinder on Thursday, Jan. 16, 1913. Through the kindness of Mr. Hinder and son Wesley rigs were provided to convey the ladies to and from their homes. Upon arriving at Mrs. Hinder's they found a number of her friends and neighbors, who gave them a warm welcome. At 1:30 a beautiful dinner was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ida McKown, Mrs. Kate McNaughton and Miss Hepler. After dinner the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Hinder. The topic of the meeting was the work among the soldiers and sailors, Mrs. Hinder being the superintendent of that department in the W. C. T. U. Devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. J. C. Wygant, pastor of the Evangelical church at Lickingville. Mrs. Hinder read a paper explaining the work of this department. Mrs. Vernah Watson Sherman's report of the World's Convention, held at Portland, Oregon, was read by Mrs. Emma Seay, followed by an address by Rev. J. C. Wygant, in which he gave much praise and encouragement to the organization. Then followed a series of earnest prayers, this being the day appointed for special prayers for the good work. The meeting was then closed by singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," Miss Hepler presiding at the organ. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mabel McKown, Jan. 30. PRESS SERV.

PERSONAL.

Merchant Hopkins is slowly recovering from a severe attack of grippe.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Craig are spending the week at Mr. Craig's old home at Clintonville, Pa.

Veterans Jonathan and William Albaugh of East Hickory were Tionesta visitors Wednesday.

We had a pleasant call Monday from Joseph Albaugh, one of our valued Hickory township subscribers.

Mrs. G. E. Gerow, of Warren, was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Robert A. Fulton, at the Central House, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Graham and children were guests of Mrs. S. W. Farmer, in Tidouite, over Sunday.

Mrs. M. Andrews of Cleveland is a guest of Mrs. Cora Felt at the Watson home, expecting to remain for some time.

James G. Bromley and young grandson, Walter Barnhart, of Meadville, were Tionesta visitors the first of the week.

H. E. Kelly of Philadelphia was a guest at his mother's home a few days of the past week while attending to business matters.

Geo. Holeman has gone with contractor James Canfield to drill on a well near West Hickory for Dr. Siggins, of Oil City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Carr of Lotuville, Pa., are guests at the homes of Mrs. Carr's brothers, F. R. and C. A. Lanson.

Charles Imel went to Copper Hill, Tennessee, last Thursday, where he has a good position as civil engineer with the Tennessee Copper Company.

I. G. Butterfield, one of our best citizens, who has been confined to his room in the Grand Central Hotel for several weeks from illness, is much better and hopes soon to again mingle with his friends.—Marienville News.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Watson left on the evening train Monday for Lamison, Alabama, where they will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Buzard for several weeks. They will stop enroute at the National Capital for several days' sightseeing.

T. D. Collins, of Nebraska, left for San Francisco, Cal., Monday, on a business trip. Mr. Collins' health being not of the most robust sort this winter, he took Mrs. Fred Kinstiver with him on this trip to look after him in case he should fall ill on the way.

James Landers is sufficiently recovered from a bad attack of neuritis to go about some now. The affection was in his right shoulder point, and if anybody thinks there is no pain connected with the disease he needs only to put in a week or so with it to have his mind thoroughly disabused.

On Tuesday evening The Mozart Club met with the Misses Smearbag. Pleading selections were read by Miss Jane Herunan on "Handel," and by Mrs. G. G. Gaston on "The Story of the Opera." Piano solos were given by Miss Fern Duun and Miss Margaret Blum, and Mrs. Cora Watson Felt sang a beautiful selection.

Mrs. J. N. Sandrock has been confined to her bed during the past week from the result of injuries sustained in a fall on the ice pavement on Monday at the crossing of Hills and Elm streets. In her fall she struck on the back of her head and only a large coil of hair saved her from a fracture of the skull. She is much improved now and will soon be out again.

On last Friday evening Miss Blanche Pease entertained Miss Olive Lanson's music class, which is composed of twenty-two members. An especially good program was given by the members and then followed the feature of the evening—the presentation of a handsome silver bag to Miss Lanson by the members of the class, little Maude Elizabeth Anderson making the presentation speech.

Jacob Siggins returned from Pittsburg the latter part of the week, greatly relieved to know that an operation on his injured eye would not be necessary at least for the present. A thorough X-Ray examination revealed a small particle of steel imbedded deeply in the eyeball, but so located as not to interfere materially with the sight, and the specialist who made the examination advised against an operation until absolutely necessary—a necessity which might never arise.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Douty and children, of Tionesta township, were at the Hotel Weaver Monday night, returning from Logan, Pa., where they had been to attend the funeral of Mrs. Douty's father, Mr. Kahle, who died last week from hardening of the arteries. A peculiar coincidence in the lives of Mrs. Douty's parents was the fact that there was just five weeks and three days difference in their ages and exactly the same length of time between the date of their death.

A very pleasant surprise party was given on Tuesday last week at the home of James Thomas on Smoky Hill, in honor of Mrs. Thomas' birthday. The day was very pleasantly spent with music and visiting. Everybody had well filled baskets and a fine dinner was served. Those in attendance were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walters and children, Mrs. Lewis Wagner, Mrs. John Flick, Mrs. Henry Sibble, Mrs. W. J. Rodgers and son, Mrs. Alvin Thomas and children, Mrs. Fox and children, Mrs. Harger, Mrs. Hyde and children, Mrs. Mealy and children.

Joseph Mealy.

Joseph Mealy, at one time well known as a citizen of Tionesta township, died at his home near Youngstown, Ohio, on the 8th of this month, aged 56 years. He is survived by his wife, three sons and four daughters. He was a son of the late Jacob Mealy and was born and reared to young manhood on a farm in what was then known as the Mealy settlement, and 22 years ago moved to Ohio, where he purchased the farm of his brother, the late Alex. Mealy, which was his home till he died. One brother, Jacob Mealy, and several sisters surviving, are residents of Tionesta township and Clarion county, among whom are Mrs. Adam Bortner, Mrs. Solomon Byers and Mrs. Casper Sandrock. The funeral was held on the 10th inst.

High Wind Wrecks Property.

It is strange weather we're having this winter—spring—summer season. At noon Saturday robins were chirping chipperly, the sun was shining radiantly, and the busy housewife had flung open the doors to let in wafts of zephyrs that were blowing as softly as on May mornings. In less than half an hour the heavens were darkened with the most threatening cloud imaginable, and in five minutes more the storm which broke was as fierce as any seen in this neck o' woods in a decade. The storm was a strange mixture of thunder, lightning, hail, rain, snow and wind, the velocity of which was something terrifying. Out on the hills and open country much havoc was wrought in the few minutes that the hurricane lasted. A standard rig belonging to Charles Bower, who is drilling for the Tionesta Gas Co., out in the southern end of the township, was so completely demolished that the contractor had to order a complete new rig. A water tank of considerable size was toppled over and rolled clear across a ten-acre field and did not stop till it had encountered the woods. The foot bridge suspended over the Tionesta creek at the Coleman Watson & Co. mill was stripped of its flooring and hangings, leaving nothing but the cables suspended on the piers. Up on Pigeon Hill, Raymond Childs' dwelling house was blown off its post foundation a distance of several feet, but remained upright and was only slightly damaged, and some dishes and a clock were thrown to the floor and demolished. Mr. and Mrs. Childs, the latter with the baby in her arms, were standing at the door watching proceedings when the heavy gust came, and as they felt the building sway, leaped out and escaped injury. Telephone wires were more or less interfered with by the trouble from that source did not last long. Other damage in this locality was doubtless done by the storm but little has been reported.

In less than half an hour after the storm broke the sun was again shining, but the atmosphere had changed and by nightfall the ground was fairly covered with snow. And so it is that this is strange winter weather.

Reading Club Entertains.

The Tionesta Reading Club did itself proud in the entertainment of husbands of the members and a few invited guests last Wednesday evening, the function being held at the elegant home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown. The club is composed of twenty ladies, and each year an entertainment in some form or other is given. This year it took the form of an informal social gathering, and each member was expected to bring a guest, who was usually her husband, a member of her family or an intimate friend. Of the twenty members but four were unable to be present, either on account of sickness in the family or absence from home. These were Mrs. Dewees, visiting in Ohio, Mrs. Carringer, Mrs. James Landers and Mrs. A. B. Kelly.

The party lasted from eight to twelve o'clock, every moment of which was filled with enjoyment and keenest interest to the fortunate guests. Fitch, dominoes and guessing games were provided which kept the interest at a high tension throughout. A novel guessing game was the "picture gallery." This consisted of a picture of each of the Club's members taken at an early period in the life of the subject. These were mostly tintypes, old photographs, and these may have been a daguerreotype or two in the collection. Some of the guesses on this bunch were funny indeed and the contest furnished greatest amusement for an hour. In this contest James Haslet was the winner, having correctly named 16 of the 20 ladies. Judge Irwin got the "booby prize." In the other guessing contest—the elements of an ear of corn—an editor about our size was saddled with the "booby prize," which was a corn-cob pipe with a goose-neck stem, and the company unanimously voted the prize an appropriate one, most worthily bestowed. During the evening Miss Martha Brown entertained the company with a number of selections very prettily rendered on the piano.

The function closed with an elegant three-course banquet which was discussed with greatest zest and relish, and the Club's guests were unanimous in their opinion that the whole splendid affair was easily the social event of the season.

The list of those present is as follows:

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Adams, Mrs. Jennie E. Agnew and Mrs. Sallie Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Brown, Rev. Mrs. H. A. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Angus Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark, Mrs. J. H. Derickson, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Gaston, Mr. and Mrs. James Haslet, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Holman, Mrs. L. J. Hopkins and son Russell, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Proper, Mrs. Susie M. Sharpe, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wenk.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
